The Tremendous Trifle

The judicial branch, which stands upon its dignity, must forgive the undignified general public for seeing ter party in the opera house. the humorous side of the portal-to-portal business.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard's ruling that the portal-to-portal time of Mt. Clemens Pottery workers is too trifling for damages occurs at the climax of litigation now estimated to involve $4,800,000,000, certainly the most tremendous trifle in history.

Judge Picard's original decision in the case was contrary to the advice of the "master" who had been brought into it to give advice. The court overruled the master and awarded the employes nominal damages rejected by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which ed in the high school building Monday, found no proper claim even for overtime.

Clem's Dilemma

Distance lends enchantment to Clement Attlee's miseries as prime minister of a labor government which failed to avert the coal crisis Britain was bound to have sometime this winter. Some of his party's critics in the United States are blaming its socialism for the dis-

But if the Conservatives had been in charge of the government, the blame would be on the creeping paralysis that has overtaken British enterprise, which is cialism isn't responsible for the fact Britain's mines are undermanned and inefficient. That happened long eration today by Ohio legislators.

Of course, the Laborites would blame everything on the Conservatives if Conservatives happened to be the government at this particular moment when severe weather has produced a climax, so they can't complain about the injustice of being charged with responsibility; that's the way the party system works. With a little luck, the Labor government may boost coal production by next winter.

It may not be amiss to remember that even in the United States, with coal, gas and oil to be had for the taking, the taking is not always adequate to meet demand. Gas supplies fail. Coal miners strike. Oil gets involved in high strategy and high finance. The strongest nation on earth could become a fumbling giant, robbed of all energy, if its basic fuel supply failed for any reason.

There is more involved in the United States coal industry than wage rates and the condition of John Lewis's eyebrows, a fact which sometimes seems to be

OSU's Budget Request For Year $49,773,387

COLUMBUS, Feb. 12-State Finance Director Herbert D. Defenbacher today scanned the largest biennial budget request in the his-tory of Ohio State university.

Submitted with a letter by University President Howard L. Bevis, the university wants the state to appropriate $49,773,387 during the 1947-48 biennium.

Of this amount, $20,564,734 ticketed for salaries, and $21,245,953 for building construction and remodeling, new equipment and additional

Another $4,962,700 would be allocated for maintenance and $3,000,000 for the proposed university medical center, already granted $5,-000,000 in 1945.

Bevis pointed to the university's increased enrollment of 24,876 registered last September compared with pre-war enrollment peaks not exceeding 13,000. He said that the Ohio State request was in line with budget needs of the five other state universities Ohio U., Bowling Green, Kent. Mi-ami and Wilberforce. He also pointed out that Illinois had been asked to grant the University of Illinois $48,000,000 for the same biennium.

al costs also rose and the averayment per case jumped from in 1944 to $35.54 last year. 1945 figure was $28.89. Job Competition is High

Welfare department officials exined that returning service men women were swelling the labor taking up the thousands of jobs being created by demand goods no one could buy during Thus, they said, the competition for jobs continued high, with many people not finding work turning to relief. In addition, they said. ndreds of persons who held war when almost anyone could get ork now were classed as unemployable and sooner or later many ecome relief cases.

Officials also noted that the number of persons in each case had increased from 3.7 per case in 1945 to 41 this year.

The cost of the state's relief program, embracing only the expenses of county relief offices and not those of the state offices here, increased from $5,545,150 in 1945 to $8,753,360. The 1944 total was $5,-

Of the total, $6,807,937 went for actual assistance in 1946, and the with a crocheted bookmarker, in the remainder for administration and Red Cross. In 1945 this figure was never been absent, unless it was $3,944,416, and in 1944 it was $3,-

In the new 1947 Pontiac, now in production, all of Pontiac's traditional quality, dependability, stamina, trouble-free operation, ease of handling and downright goodness have been retained. These qualities have made more than a million friends of more than a million Pontiac owners.

Added for 1947 are appearance changes to enhance Pontiac's beauty; mechanical improvements to uphold Pontiac's known reputation for dependable and trouble-free performance.

Pontiac again offers two outstanding series in ten body types. The Streamliner is on the 122inch wheelbase; the Torpedo on a 119-inch wheelbase. Each is available as a Six or an Eight. Millions of people have learned to expect an outstanding value from Pontiac . . . and the 1947 Pontiac fulfills their expectations in every way. The 1947 Pontiac is a fine car made finer.

TWO CAGE GAMES

It took Salem's Quakers almost two full quarters to get under way against the Wellsville Bengals at Reash and Hawkins led the loswellsville Tuesday night, but they managed to swing into stride and win their 13th victory in 14 starts, 53-36.

The Bengals were an inspired outfit the first frame and a half and gave their excited followers a thrill Roller as they stayed right with the Quakers, leading most of the way until Holt -a minute before halftime.

Finklestein

Tonight at Youngstown Arena, Al Zill presents a wrestling match that should meet with the approval of the wrestling fans. In the feature match. Primo Carnera the giant Italian, takes on another giant, in the person of the Golden Terror, of Los Angeles, Calif. The Terror who weighs 330 pounds will give Carnera plenty of trouble, this match will be one fall to a finish.

In the semi-final Frank Julian of Salem meets Harry Finklestein of New York, this match will be 2 out of 3 falls. one hour time limit. Zill had planned to use Julian with Carnera, but Carnera was much too big and a change had to be

AUTO INDUSTRY WATCHES CORNERS

Production Costs Scrutinized; Fear Public Demand May Drag

DETROIT, Feb. 12-Seeking to avoid further price increases, and equent lessening of its overall market the automobile industry is giving more than ordinary attention right now to every item of production cost

It is a normal practice in the industry to thoroughly scrutinize the cost of everything from cotter pins to transmissions, but with a lot of uncertainities ahead in the matter of wages, the manufacturers are screening all expense factors more finely than ever.

Not many months ago the heads of the purchasing divisions were ready to pay almost any price for certain critical items; there still are critical items_critical at least in the drive for a 500,000 car and truck output monthly-but the procurement chiefs are reported to be challenging the price of everything going into current models.

Moreover, the heads of several car companies have been in con-ference recently with top executives of a number of their major suppliers seeking downward price adjustments

Demand Questionable

But the suppliers, too, are concerned about wage increases they may have to make within the next few weeks and price reductions do not appeal to them at the moment.

All this activity, of course, means that despite the currently reported huge backlog of unfilled orders, the industry has begun to worry about how long demand will hold up. It repeatedly has been said in automotive trade quarters that unfilled orders on hand amount to about 5,000,000 and that the de-mand exceeds the industry's production capacity for the year a-iod of high volume production is attained, the merchandising division may have to begin "selling" automobiles-instead of merely delivering them a lot sooner than was indicated a few months ago.

New, Modern Portal

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Feb. 12.-A new portal four miles closer to the place where coal is dug and equipped with comfort and restaurant facilities comparable to those of a modern hotel was opened at Willow Grove mine last night.

The new portal, located five miles from the original opening of Willow Grove proper, a Hanna Coal Co. mine, was used for the first time by 125 night shift miners, and after looking it over, they went home grinning.

When they used the original portal, the men rode four miles to their working places. Now they ride a passenger elevator for 22 seconds, walk through a concrete, electric-lighted corridor, push through a what is door in the coal mine industry, and there they are-practically within spittin' distance of the coal seam.

The reaction of the men when they saw the new portal was: "Say, this is all right!" Here's what they found in the new portal building atop of the 175-foot shaft: A 25-shower wash room, a dress-ing room that can accomodate the mine's 600 employes, drinking fountains and modern toilet facilities; a lounging room, and an elaborate restaurant from which hot meals are available for each of the three Ultra-violet lamps minimize the dangers of spreading air-borne cold and other germs, and the ozone they generate purifies the air by removing odors.

Scientific Lingo Too Much For Plumber

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.-Scientists at the Bureau of Standards finally had to drop scientific lingo to get across their idea. Dr. George Russell Harrison, dean of the Massachusetts In-stitute of Technology, told the story in a lecture last night: A foreign born plumber in

New York City wrote that he had found hydrochloric acid did a good job of cleaning out clogged drains The bureau wrote: "The efficacy of hydrochloric acid is
